

SKYLINE

PEALOUT

What am I doing here
In such a lonely place?
    Birds fly below
    I'm high up in my cage
    Wide awake again
    Or am I dreaming?
    Trains passing by
    World spinning 'round my head
    Then I heard a sweet voice cry
    Telling me, yeah, it's gonna be alright
    I just look at the skyline
    A million lights are looking back at me
        And when they shine
    I see a place I know I'll find some peace
        I just look at the skyline
        I used to rush around
        To keep busy in the day
        Then we did up and drink

We might find something new to say
    No, I can't live this way
    But then I heard that sweet voice cry
    Telling me, yeah, it's gonna be alright
    I just look at the skyline
    A million lights are looking back at me
        And when they shine
    I see a place I know I'll find some peace
        I just look at the skyline
        I look at the skyline
    A million lights are looking back at me
        And when they shine
    I see a place I know I'll find some peace
        I just look at the skyline
        What am I doing here
        In such a lonely place?
