

For All It's Worth

Above the Underground

And if i say another god damn, thing you'll be running around your house screaming you and just a bad dream, but i know when i go to sleep girl, you'll be the last thing on my mind. It was a long month somewhere in the Autumn, there was something in the air that night, like in a movie the plot twist against me, colours in the leaves and the colours in her eyes, in the car out side, the perfect way to say that you were doing just alright, we're getting older all the time, we're getting older all the time, And if i say another god damn thing you'll be running around your house
screaming you and just a bad dream,
but i know when i go to sleep girl, you'll be the last thing on my mind. If your sheets could talk they'd talk down to you, while your alone in your bedroom, you've been keeping bad company they'd whisper softly as you fall asleep, no dreams tonight, no dreams tonight. And if i say another god damn thing you'll be running around your house
screaming you and just a bad dream,
but i know when i go to sleep girl, you'll be the last thing on my mind. It was a bad day sorry I was so late, I never asked you, it was a bad day sorry I was so late, whoaaa, whoaaa We've got so many vices so much time to just grow up and just move on you are the architect of every step that you have laid out wrong, We've got so many vices
so much time to just grow up and just move on
you are the architect of every step that you have laid out wrong, We've got so many vices
so much time to just grow up and just move on you are the architect of every step that you have laid out wrong.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>