I Love You This Much

The Whisnants

I Love You This Much

As a Child I asked my mother
Howe much do you love me
Then she threw her arms wide open
For my little eyes to see
Then she told me of the saviour
On a hill so far away
When I heard how much He loved
My life has never been the same

Chorus:
I love you this much
Then He opened His arms and died for me
I love you this much
As He bowed His head at Calvary
Oh what mercy was reveled
As His precious blood was spilled
With arms opened wide
My saviour cried
I love you this much

Many times weâ€™ve heard the story
Weâ€™ve memorized John 3:16
But sometimes we take for granted
How He died for you and me
When my heart is to be thankful
For the price He paid for my sin
Just take me back to calvary
To see those open arms again
Then He opened His arms and died for me
I love you this much
As He bowed his head at calvary
Oh what mercy was reveled
As His precious blood was spilled
With arms opened wide
My saviour cried
I love you this much

I love you this much

Lyrics Submitted by Joyce Kolar

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/