

Hypnosis

Damien Rice

when you know who you are and can see through your veils your old fears become wind in your sail then your heart heat unfurled from the hypnosis of your world when you know who you are the darkness the light, love loves it all cause love has no fight, what has passed is a dream what is not here is not what it seems so pull yourself together now when you know who you are and nothing to hide loves at your feet and the hands at your side when your ears are your words the silence can always be heard
when you know who you are you can't help but let go you know no one's right you know you don't know the paradox becomes less absurd as you hypnosis unwhirls so pull yourself together now what's the matter with what's the matter with what's the matter with you did it crush, did it shatter? did it break or scatter? did it tear your little heart in two? what's done is over yeah if you want something new just pull yourself together now so pull yourself together now
so pull yourself together now
so pull yourself together now all i have is all i need, and all i need is here now Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>