

Dancing by the Water Day

Viking Moses

It's Dancing By The Water Day
Synti comes along, and we waltz on a world that is calm.
We waltz on a world that is calm.
When night bows her head to the coming day, and a rising light is born,
We will watch as the boats move along.
We will watch as the boats move along. It's Dancing By The Water Day
Our movements though the air push away all doubt and fear.
Yes, they push away all doubt and fear and install in their place faith and comfort,
And a drive that's ready and strong for when our bodies aren't near.
Yes, for when our bodies aren't near. It's Dancing By The Water Day,
Our bodies draw close, then break away.
And when they do they cry and pray for Dancing By The Water Day!
Yes, it's Dancing By The Water Day,
Synti comes along, and we waltz on a world that is calm.
We waltz on a world that is calm.
When night bows her head to the coming day, and a rising light is born,
We will watch as the boats move along.
We will watch as the boats move along.
