

Sleeping Lessons (RAC Mix)

The Shins

Go without
'Til the need seeps in
You low, animal
Collect your novel petals for the stem And glow
Glow
Melt and flow
Eviscerate your fragile frame
And spill it out in the ragged floor
A thousand different versions of yourself And if the old guard still offend
They got nothing left on which you depend
So enlist every ounce
Of your bright blood
And off with their heads
Jump from The hook
You're not obliged to swallow anything you despise
See, those unrepenting buzzards want your life And they got no right
As sure as you have eyes
They got no right
