Tina's Glorious Comeback

Dan Mangan

Downtown Vancouver
Digging through your bag
Ripping out the pages
Of the local music magYou missed the show last summer
But now you've got your chance
They're playing at The Railway
With another emo bandI'm ambitious when giving up
Never thinking clear enoughBut we're not Elvis anymore
We're not Frankie in his wild years
We're not Tina's glorious comeback
We're not us, we're not usSold my soul to the devil
For nice penmanship
And now I write real pretty
But I'm starting to regret itIf all of this was easy
It wouldn't matter how it endsI'm ambitious when giving up
Never thinking clear enoughBut we're not Elvis anymore
We're not Frankie in his wild years
We're not Tina's glorious comeback
We're not us, we're not usWe're not us, anymore
We're not us
We're not us, anymore
W'ere not usWe're not us

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/