Change Girl

Joni Fuller

I could read your mind
But I just dont have the time
Lost, over the bridge, can you make it home?
What happened to the girl that they used to know?Stop now,
Better think twice
They can kiss goodbye to their good advice
Nowhere to run
Youll never change girl, change girl
Hey look
Youve got a new dress
But it dont mean much if your heads a mess
I dont believe
Youll ever change girl, change girl
Youre the bestThis is not a game
You dont have to take the blame
Theyre selling their souls on the radio
Still, looking for God and a RomeoAnd the world dont even matter when Youre alone inside
And the girl stares from a photograph
But she cant disguise...
