Could've Fooled Me

Rachelle Ferrell

Don't ask what am I gonna do
'Cause it hasn't even started sinking in Need time, time to think it through
How am I supposed to know where I begin?Suddenly, I'm alone here
Loving me isn't in your plans
Since yesterday, you were mine
And my heart was in your handsCould've fooled me
Turned out I was wrong
You knew all along
That one day you'd be leavingCould've fooled me
I was so secure
Confident and sure we were meant to be
You could've fooled meSo sad, I'm the last to know
Would have bet my life we were going all the way
It's too bad you didn't let me go
If you were honest then I'd be over you, todayNow suddenly, I'm alone here
To loving me, doesn't feel so right
Yesterday, you were mine
But we're history tonightCould've fooled me
Turned out I was wrong
You knew all along
Someday you'd be leaving meCould've fooled me
I was so secure
Confident and sure we were meant to be
Could've fooled meThere was no indication
No warning, no signs
I guess you could say that I
I must have been blindCould've fooled me
Turned out I was wrong
You must've known all along
Someday you'd be leavingCould've fooled me
I was so secure
Confident and sure we were meant to be
Could've fooled meCould've fooled me
Turned out I was wrong
You knew all alongCould've fooled me
Turned out I was wrong
You must've known all along
