

Like A Hitman, Like A Dancer

A.C. Newman

Like a hit man, oh, like a dancer
All muscle, all muscle
Like the old champion about to go under
I owe my soul, owe my soul Feel like a changed man but not a changed man
You're gonna change sides but you wanted to wait
Change sides but you wanted to wait Like a fourth wall, a car chase on blue screen
All eyes roll, all eyes roll
Like a snowfall that blankets the city
Swallowed whole, swallowed whole Like a changed man but not a changed man
You're gonna change sides but you wanted to wait
Change sides but you wanted to wait Like a hit man, oh, like a dancer
All muscle, all muscle
Like a balancing act or a stage whisper
It's all I know, it's all I know Feel like a changed man but not a changed man
You're gonna change sides but you wanted to wait
Change sides but you wanted to wait Like a changed man but not a changed man
You're gonna change sides but you wanted to wait
Change sides but you wanted to wait Like a hit man, oh, like a dancer
Like a hit man, oh, like a dancer
