

Locked Doors (2015 Remastered)

Jack's Mannequin

Okay, take a look look look at you
Gotta match a face with a feeling
Check the flash, record, start the healing
Right now, right now
Stop stop stop stop stop stop
Start again
It's hard admitting you're not fitting with your old friends
The clock is ticking and the clicking is the only thing in your head
In your head Pieces of your love life
Came crashing down and breaking up
And locked doors aren't that hard to bust through
Did you stay true to what's been true to you?
When all of the wreckage settles
Will all of your precious medals
Sleep with you like the devil who seduced you?
You better get used to waking up alone
Okay, take a look look look at this
It's a wreck, a wreck is what you needed
Check the stats, you're better when you're bleeding
I'll wash my hands, these bloody prints
So stop stop stop stop
Start again
It's hard admitting you're not fitting with your old friends
It's so disarming watching all the walls come closing in
In on you, you've got no clue until Pieces of your love life
Came crashing down and breaking up
And locked doors aren't that hard to bust through
Did you stay true to what's been true to you?
When all of the wreckage settles
Will all of your precious medals
Sleep with you like the devil who seduced you?
You better get used to waking up alone
Oh woah, my head is screaming at me, it's screaming at me
Cause I put my money where your mouth was, mouth was Taste's good, does it Cam
Sweet, because it always was that Pieces of your love life
Came crashing down, you're breaking up
These locked doors aren't that hard to bust through
Did you stay true to what's been true to you?

When all of the wreckage settles
Will all of your precious medals
Sleep with you like the devil who seduced you?
Well, you better get used to waking up alone
You better get used to waking up alone
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>