The Human Abstract

David Axelrod

We shape the future, we rape the world
Fallen icons left to burn
The depiction of a naked deformity
Another long lost tragedyThe man in the moon is looking right at you
With a face of death, he follows the future
While you sleep we destroy our planet
And somewhere in space the dead are smilingBeautiful disease
The worm is crawling beneath your skin
Beautiful disease
The worm is feeding on your lies withinDisintegration, deterioration
Television, slave generation
Deformation, devastation
Electronic mind mutation"Lost in your own illusion, sick from your own disease,
You drained the world in your search of knowledge
All questions are answers hidden within their own reality
Open your eyes and the truth shall set you free"We shape the future, we rape the world
The depiction of a naked deformity
Another long lost tragedyBeautiful disease
The worm is crawling beneath your skin
Beautiful disease
The worm is feeding on your lies within
