Suicide Silence

Like a kite, my mind is soaring high
Through the sky every day and night
And way up high, I can still see just fine
Don't worry; everything will be all right
I know it's scary, but everything will be all right I can't sleep; too many voices trying to talk to me
I can't sleep; bloodshot eyes and I still feel fine
I think I've lost my mind and I think I still feel fine
I can't sleep; too many voices trying to talk to me
I can't sleep; bloodshot eyes and I still feel fine
Let's take it back to square one
And figure out how all this bullshit began
Is this the end of my reality?
I'll hold my breath till I can't breathe
(Just to get a feeling) I feel I've fallen into self-defeat
Is that the reason I'm losing sleep?
I've fallen into self-defeat
I can't sleep; too many voices trying to talk to me
I can't sleep; bloodshot eyes and I still feel fine Here in my head, I can't tell who I'm talking to
It seems I can't tell what's being said
Someone, please tell me, am I live or dead Like I said, I know it's scary
But everything will be all right
Let's take it back to square one
And figure out how all this bullshit began
This is the end of my reality
I'll hold my breath till I can't breathe
