Design Your Fate

Scars Of Tomorrow

When I look in your eyes, I can see disgust
But it's not in me, it's all in yourself
Raise your fist and speak your voice
Grab your chest and open your heart
Raise your fist and speak your voice
Grab your chest and open your heartYour emptiness
Oh my God, let's goYour emptiness that you have for yourself has made you weak
With every day and every breath always holding back
You try to hold on to the things that you won't fight to keep alive
You try to hold on to the things that you won't fight to keep aliveTake my hand and slap my face
And I can't believe this is what I see
Take my hand and slap my face
And I can't believe this is what I seeDisgrace yourself and all that you love, goAnd I say it again, so don't burden me, so don't burden me
So don't burden me, so don't burden me
[Incomprehensible]Don't burden me with your lack of trust in yourself
With your loss of words, design your fate
Don't burden me with your lack of trust in yourself
With your loss of words, design your fate
