Forever

Third Day

I see a hand reaching out to help me
But I don't understand all of Your ways
But You are still the potter and I am just the clay
And though I know at times I am too proud
To reach for You, to help me out
And if I waited on myself to get it right
I would be waiting here forever, oh yeahBut Your grace is never going to change
And Your faith always will remain
And Your love is the same
Yesterday, today, and foreverAnd I see Your world looking for an answer
But I don't know what for
When will we realize that we're sinners
In the hands of a loving God who came
And died and wants to set us free
Oh, how He longs to be with you and me
And if we waited on the truth to change
Oh, Lord, we would be waiting here forever, oh yeahBut Your grace is never going to change
And Your faith always will remain
And Your love is the same
Yesterday, today, and forever, ooh wow, ooh wowI see a hand reaching out to help me
But I don't understand all of Your ways
But You save me, I thank you Jesus'Cause Your grace is never going to change
And Your faith always will remain
And Your love is the same
Yesterday, today, and forever, wow, yeahBut Your grace is never going to change
And Your faith always will remain
And Your love is the same
Yesterday, today, and forever, oh, yesAnd Your love is the same
Yesterday, today, and forever
Forever, forever, forever, forever

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/