

Anyway (feat. J. Glaze)

Kellee Maize

V1

Things could always be worse I remind myself of this often when i'm coughing, when im sick when im hurt I get my ass outta bed, meditate the crime out my head there is no time for a pretend, this is the life i came to end so i should enjoy the time i have I employ my best and then when i feel lost when i feel down i know its all cost to pay for another round wanna keep my self clean i wanna be best i could be cause the children, they keep growing and I've been knowing that my responsibility is serious um un-delirious about this sphere of trust given to us called earth its worth strait gold
and in her life
we ain't old
we should respect the truth that has been told that she has been bent in half and we must open the foldHook 2x and Its alright and Its okay
We will figure it out anywayV2 Human have taken advantage of each other and of the earth and now as our brains begin to evolve I wonder if we will all realize what this is worth will we solve the equation of birth I say yes, it only makes sense beyond cents and dollars back to the bead-makers and potters back to the origin of the fathers of freedom not legions but tribes not heathens but scribes, not demons but wives of the universe

in a soothing verse they will undo the curse we will unveil the nurse the owl's message is new not of ending but of proof that we are attending who will recoup of all the lost in the group those pushed down by the untruth those who haven't gotten what their due this song right here, well, this one's is for youHookBridge you need to know that you are divine you need to know that now is your time nothing that can stop u now nothing that can stop u nowHook
