

Dream Lantern

RADWIMPS

Ah, if only our voices speak at night could ever reach the very edge of this World, and the time Instead of fading into air and dust Then what will the words could ever be?
farthest words from 'probably'
Let's make a promise, that will never fade
Let's say it together in count of three, oh Ah. I'm told that some part of every wish will be heard
But lately I lost sight of the truth in those words
I can't even remember when I gave up believing What could have been the reason? Ah, the very moment that the rain will stop
And the place rainbow born and dies
And where the end of this life lies
I've always been insisting there was something I've longing for One day we'll reach to emotions unexplored unprecedented
We'll high-five love we've yet to discover and give a kiss to time The five dimensions keep on teasing me
But I will keep on looking at you, dear
Let's make a sign for when we say "nice to meet you" again
I'm on my way to you, chasing after your name

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>