Learning to Fly

Kate Earl

i've made mistakes
but i won't be ashamed it feels like fate is liftin me i can't seem to keep my feet on the groundi no longer hide so i let the sun wash over me cause there's no darkness left to hold me down
and i feel it's light
now i found the spark
that was missin in my lifei earned these wings
i was not born with them & it's no accident
how i walked through the rain and the firecause it taught me how to love it taught me how to fight & finally im learning to flywhen you lose your way when your heart breaks when you can't escape you feel just like a prisoner of all the world says you will never be that's when you can't give up gotta hold on tighter now that ever the answers will find you when you believe
and i feel it's light
now i found the spark
that was missin in my lifei earned these wings
i was not born with them
& it's no accident
how i walked through
the rain and the firecause it taught me how to love
it taught me how to fight & finally im learning to flyand i tried yea i tried to get somewhere that i'd rather be but sometimes the fastest way is not so easyi earned these wings
i was not born with them
& it's no accident
how i walked through
the rain and the firecause it taught me how to love
it taught me how to fight & finally im learning to fly

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/