

Hearts Are Magnets

Jason Reeves

Its not your fault
I can never get you off my mind
Still youre gonna have to pay for it
Cause all I ever see is your smile
And its obvious that this is beyond both of us
Cause hearts are magnets pulling us together
And out of nowhere, our fingers turn to feathers
And all that I want is so simply just to see you
When you wake up with no makeup,
In your sweat pants with your hair undone
So its not my fault that you have got the most endless eyes
And I can't help but fall into them
So Im not going to fight it this time
Cause its obvious that this is beyond both of us
Because Hearts are magnets pulling us together
And out of nowhere, our fingers turn to feathers
And all that I want is so simply just to see you
When you wake up with no makeup,
In your sweat pants with your hair undone
And dont you run away without me, dear
And dont you try to say
Its all in my head
Cause I dont believe it
I dont believe it
No I dont
Cause hearts are magnets pulling us together
Out of nowhere our fingers turn to feathers
All that I want is so simply just to see you
When you wake up with no makeup,
In your sweat pants with your hair undone
And its obvious that this is beyond both of us
