

She's Wonderful Too

Seth MacFarlane

I've a girl on my arm with an elegant charm
A London lass of beauty nonpareils
My gal is Paris is divine as can be
I lover her so as anyone could clearly tell Though many could abide this merry lover's ride
There can't be any joy for me
Until I make my heart decide for She's marvelous too, how can a man be true?
A weary is the chance for a lasting romance
When she's wonderful too One true love is a work of art painted by cupid's bow
Two true lovers and you'll feel your heart
Wishing in a way that you had no one She's wonderful too, I haven't got a clue
Just how, when or who I should say "I love you" to Both so sublime, just one lifetime
I think I know and then I seem to say again
She's simply wonderful too
