

Take Everything In

Angie Stone

Lord knows I gotta be, true to myself to see. God's been too good to me to take things lightly. We all know that we've had better days, even when our world is grey. Trouble don't last always, that's why I'm leaning on my faith.

Sometimes we've gotta stop and take everything in. Make room for my new dreams, look back on the new scenes. It's time for me to stop, you gave me a reason, to walk into my season, I've only just begun. So busy worrying about the little thing, when someone else is doing worst than me. Somebody out there got a child in need, another soldier died for you and me. Ever if we breathe, it ain't even healthy, cause in the forests there ain't no trees. Don't tell me that don't make you stop and think.

Sometimes we've gotta stop and take everything in. Make room for my new dreams, look back on the new scenes. It's time for me to stop, you gave me a reason, to walk into my season, I've only just begun.

I'm so grateful, said I'm grateful. I'm where I wanna be. I'm where I want to be. Every destiny, means more than life to me, more than life to me.

Sometimes we've gotta stop and take everything in. Make room for my new dreams, look back on the new scenes. It's time for me to stop, cause you gave me a reason, to walk into my season, I've only just begun. Can't let life get to you. I'm just to cool to be stressed out in the middle of the day. I can't
