

Peacetime Resistance

Kings Of Convenience

feeling the comfort of eyes is your sole intention we all want to be understood unconditionally but you have to realize that a viewer needs distance and the moment your wall melts down the inside is outside maybe way back in the past, when people were different shortening bonds made them last now we emphasize our difference we have been enrolled one by one for the peacetime resistance and we're fighting our battles alone we've got four eyes, so why yearn for one perspective?

we've got colours with shades erased when blended
we've got four eyes, so why yearn for one perspective?
we've got colours, but they disappear when blended
