Lessdmv - Alba

Start again and get rid off this suffocating world
fade my soul
i feel alive inside

The dawn has gone, and my heart is turning into stone
fade my soul
i feel alive inside
the dawn the dawn the dawn has gone

can you hear the tides are getting near?
can you feel the water getting clear?
can scream without spilling your tears?
can you live your life without your fears?
can you hear the whispers in the wind?
can you feel the fire taking your dreams?
can you see the world is crashing down?
can you see your soul is getting drown?
can you see the hills hiding the sun?
can you feel your lungs turning into stone?
can you feel the cold fading your breath?
do you know the truth behind your death?
can you hear the oceans getting loud?
can you draw your madness through the clouds?
can you see the secrets in the sky?
even when the answer seems so far?
can you feel the anger in your heart?
can you feel the silence in your head?
can you tide your dreams tight to your bed?
can you feel the seasons getting tired?
