Annie

Our Lady Peace

No, no, noYou're a little bit shy, little too quiet
Yeah, you're the mixed up girl that everybody leaves behind
A little bit weird, a little too bright, no
But you just might be that little bomb at the sideThey'll pull your hair, they'll leave you wide-eyed
But did anybody wonder what Annie might have in mind, oh noSomething in the way she explains to me
"Please be careful, I exist in someone else's head", oh no
There's something in the way that she makes believe
Please be careful, Annie dreams that everyone is dead
No, no, noYou're a little bit dry, a little uptight, no
You're the messed up girl that everybody tries to hide
You've had enough, they're too unkind, no
But did anyone consider what Annie might have in mind, oh noSomething in the way she explains to me
"Please be careful, I exist in someone else's head", oh no
There's something in the way that she makes believe
Please be careful, Annie dreams that everyone is deadSomething in the way she explains to me
"Please be careful, I exist in someone else's head", oh no
There's something in the way that she makes believe
Please be careful, Annie dreams that everyone is deadSomething in the way she explains to me
"Please be careful, I exist in someone else's head", oh no
There's something in the way that she makes believe
Please be careful, Annie dreams that everyone is dead
Everyone is dead, everyone is dead, everyone is dead
Everyone is dead, everyone is dead
