

Untanglin' My Mind

Clint Black

Well I guess you're glad to see I'm finally leaving
I know things for you will change now for the good
But it's all that I can do to pack my suitcase
And walk away from you the way I should And I can't seem to find the voice of reason
Everything seems upside down and right side wrong
While a part of me is here and won't like leaving
The rest of me, the best of me is gone And I'm sure no one will wonder where I've gone to
But if anyone should ask from time to time
Tell 'em that you finally drove me crazy
And I'm somewhere untanglin' my mind Well tell 'em I won't be riding I'll be walking
'Cause I don't think a crazy man should drive
Anyway the car belongs to you now
Along with any part of me that's still alive But there's really not much left you could hold on to
And if you did it wouldn't last here anyway
It'd head to where the rest of me rolled on to
So even if I wanted to I couldn't stay And I'm sure no one will wonder where I've gone to
But if anyone should ask from time to time
You can tell 'em that you finally drove me crazy
And I'm somewhere untanglin' my mind
I'm somewhere untanglin' my mind
