

I Thought She Knew

Memories and past whispers

She was my once in a lifetime
Happy ending come true
Oh, I guess I should have told her
I thought she knew She said I took her for granted
That's the last thing I would do
Oh, I'll never understand it
I thought she knew I thought she knew my world revolved around her
My love light burned for her alone
But she couldn't see the flame, only myself to blame
I should have known, I should have known A heart full of words left unspoken
Now that we're through
I'd sell my soul to have this silence broken
Oh, I thought she knew, I should have known I thought she knew my world revolved around her
My love light burned for her alone
But she couldn't see the flame, only myself to blame
I should have known, I should have known She was my once in a lifetime
Happy ending come true
Whoa I guess I should have told her
But I thought she knew
I thought she knew yeah, I thought she knew I thought that she knew

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>