

Lonely Girl

Sandi Thom

Sometimes I see her down by the river
The water dances on her skin
She can captivate to hit the ice
But she never lets you in
And in the dark she lingers
Like a tear without a soul
And oh, what a lonely girl
Trying to find her way in this mixed up, messed up world
And I see so many faces just like her
So many broken hearts in the world
And oh, what a lonely, what a lonely girl
He said lately she's been watching the weather
The weather doesn't know what to do
'Cause sometimes when it's cold outside
That's when she's feeling blue
Said I see through her sadness
Deep within her soul
All she wants to have

Is someone she can love to make her whole
And oh, what a lonely girl
Trying to find her way in this mixed up, messed up world
And I see so many faces just like her
So many broken hearts in the world
And oh, what a lonely, what a lonely girl
Isn't it incredible, oh, isn't it regrettable
'Cause she found sweet love and then she let it go
And I've seen so many faces just like her
So many broken hearts in the world
And oh, what a lonely, what a lonely day
And oh, what a lonely girl
Trying to find her way in this mixed up, messed up world
And I see so many faces just like her
So many broken hearts in the world
And oh, what a lonely, what a lonely girl
And oh, what a lonely, what a lonely girl

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>