

Pass Out

Robert DeLong

Oh, yeah, everything seems to move so fast
Get old, if you live your life backwards you won't have a past
Move West, and know that the [?] will be hard
Future's, it's in the, it's in the, it's in the cards All you want, all you need
In your head, room to breath
At the end of the night when you pass out,
You see the whole world in slow-motion
When you put up a fight just to step down
You see the whole world through that emotion Feels good, to let someone let you inside of their heart
But it will end, it's in the, it's in the, it's in the cards All you want, all you need
In your head, room to breath
At the end of the night when you pass out,
You see the whole world in slow-motion
When you put up a fight just to step down
You see the whole world through that emotion
At the end of the night when you pass out,
You see the whole world in slow-motion
At the end of the night when you pass out
It's in the cards [x8]
You see the whole world through that emotion
