Older Posts

Arthur Walwin

The clock runs out from another round. Well pretend to make peace whilst we figure it out. I compose my thoughts and Im writing myself to sleep. But do you think about me when youre mouthing around and someone knocks you off your throne? Well it changes you into someone I find hard to adore - and my girls not there anymore.I went looking for you, will I find you? Will I find you?
And Ive loved and I have lost, will I find you? Will I find you?Unfollow me or do as you please. My walls not a home for your abuse. Is this all weve amounted to? Dyou know I think about you?I went looking for you, will I find you? Will I find you?
And Ive loved and I have lost, will I find you? Will I find you?You used to run to me and youd call when youd need me; wed wait for the winter to end. So we could hold each other and lay there forever cause I need you.I went looking for you, will I find you? Will I find you?
And Ive loved and I have lost, will I find you? Will I find you?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/