Original Love

The Feelies

You said no commitment
When I asked you for a compromise
Just a compromise
Now I don't know why I ask you
It's always such a problem
Why make it a problemYou must be waiting for things to happen
Expecting something to happen
But nothing ever happensYour voice raised in anger
Who knows what you're after
You don't know what you're after
You never seem to notice
The distance between us
The distanceYou're only waiting for things to happen
Expecting something to happen
But nothing ever happensYour weakness is getting stronger
With your disregard for conventions
I'm not looking for some
New kind of social age anyway
They all seem the same
