

Headlights Look Like Diamonds

Arcade Fire

The red lights mean you're leaving
The white one's mean returning
Tell me, how this story ends?
And I'll keep them fires burningThe headlights look like diamonds
The taillights burn like coals
Tell me how this story ends
Before the fires go coldThe countryside's deserted
There's no one on the farms
The suburbs all are sleeping
The earthquakes set off car alarmsAll after all now we aware
All after all the time we share
There's so much fears of world
[Unverified] of world, tears of world
