Novelty (2010 Remastered Version)

Joy Division

When people listen to you, don't you know it means a lot?
'Cause you've got to work so hard for everything you've got Can't rest on your laurels now
Not when you've got none
You'll find yourself in a gutter
Right back where you came fromSomeone told me being in the know is the main thing
We all need the security that belonging brings
Can't stand on your own in these times
Against all the odds
You all just fall behind like all the other sodsYou slap our backs and pretend you knew about
All the things that we were gonna do
What ya gonna do, what ya gonna do
When it's over?You're on your own now, don't you think that's a shame?
But you're the only one responsible to take the blame
So what ya gonna do when the novelty has gone?
Yeah, what ya gonna do when the novelty has gone?

Songwriters
BERNARD SUMNER, IAN KEVIN CURTIS, PETER HOOK, STEPHEN PAUL DAVID MORRISPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/