Thine Eyes

Edith Frost

Oh, you're back again
And it's like you never went back home
I never knew
About the moon until they went thereGive me a sign (tonight)
Give me some words to go by
Give me a lie (to write)
Don't wanna look in thine eyesOthers lovers disappear
And others lovers stayin'
Others lovers had their year
No matter what they're sayin'
Still don't feel like i've tried enoughSo, you never know
When the smoke might blow around your way
Oh it's hard to say
How they're gonna read the ashes anywayGive me a sign (tonight)
Give me some words to go by
Give me a lie (to write)
Don't wanna look in thine eyesOthers lovers disappear
And others lovers stayin'
Others lovers had their year
No matter what they're sayin'
Still don't feel like i've tried enough
