

Something You Said

Amanita Bloom

I didn't stand a chance
I heard a voice within
With just a passing glance
You made the walls cave in
You were gone baby without a word I got the message loud and clear
 Couldn't help but hear
 As you were walkin' away
It was something you said Now I wake up in the night
 Strange things in my head
 Oh, you did it with your eyes
 It must'a been something
 Must'a been something you said
 So say it again I'm just delirious
 Caught in a waking dream
 Did you mean what you said
An' did you say what you mean Mere words, fade away
 You had a language I couldn't miss
 It was on your lips, but
 You didn't get me that way
It was something you said Now I wake up in the night
 Strange things in my head
 Oh, you did it with your eyes
 It must'a been something
 Must'a been something you said
 So say it again In the middle of the night
 All alone in my bed
 It was nothin' you could write
 It must'a been something
 Must'a been something you said
