

Invade My Soul (Edit Version)

By the Tree

Searching for truth to hold onto
You're looking for a reason
So much confusion, the world is crying out
It's time for me to speak aloud
I will never silent, can never tamed
I will always speak Your name You invade my soul
Lord take control
I'm coming back, coming back too You invade my soul
Lord take control
I'm coming back, coming back too Throw away your sadness and let it go
Let the oil of gladness take control
Give Him your burdens, cast your cares
He died for you, He'll always be there You invade my soul
Lord take control
I'm coming back, coming back too You, your always there
I remember you, you remember me
I live in You Holy are you, worthy are you
You're worthy of the praise I bring to You
I lift my voice to worship You
Then you come, then you come
