

Without a Woman I Love

Jaron and the Long Road to Love

I was the fastest, the first one down the mountain
Then all of the other lions, surrounded me like a fountain
But, then one day they were gone like they never came at all.

With a big golden coat and a heart still on fire
But knowing I can't run after what I still desire
See time has passed me by, like the evening sun
They always warned me my time would come.

Not long ago I was the king of the hill
The talk of the town

I was the cat they all looked up to...look at me now!

I walk the streets alone, got no pride of my own

I tried jumping, but I couldn't let go

I never hear goodnight, wake up to kisses like
I always thought I would someday when I got older

But, what good's this crown on my head

Without a woman I love resting on my shoulder?

Just a toothless lion, yeah I'm lying on my belly
One paw over the other, just looking down the valley

At all the young gazelles like I used to do then

I was the only one who couldn't stop playing

Not long ago I was the king of the hill

The talk of the town

I was the cat they all looked up to...look at me now!

I walk the streets alone, got no pride of my own

I tried jumping, but I couldn't let go

I never hear goodnight, wake up to kisses like
I always thought I would someday when I got older

But, what good's this crown on my head

Without a woman I love resting on my shoulder?

What good's this crown on my head

Without a woman I love resting on my shoulder?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>