First Spring Day

Suburban Tribe

Early morning's bright sun shine
It seems a bit different today
Open the window hear the seagulls
spring is finally here
Feel the warm breath of wind caressing my face in the light Fill my lungs and taste the air
spring is finally here
After the winter sleep after the darkness so deep people gathering to the streets to welcome the first spring day Welcome the first spring day farewell to winter's shades of grey a toast with few words to say
to welcome the first spring day
Smell the ocean from a distance
I can picture the shimmering white sand Ice and snow are barely melting
spring is finally here
