Tangerine Circus

Deep inside the earth
A treasure lies untold Buried within our souls
Living in the notes of a flying bird
Its message spread forever and beyond Deep inside our hearts
Lost in the river flow
A force lies unknown
That lets us withstand the barriers of time
From the blue of the sea, to the clouds in the sky
To live or to die Hiding the secrets in a bottle of wine Reflecting the fall of a star, so crystalline white
The trees of the forest, so watchful and free
Running away, to our freewill
It's the time
to embrace all the feelings that make us be to remember we're human the river of life, forevermore A journey towards the unseen looking for answers Lost and found in time
A time to sit down and think Where are going? Where have we been?
Something isn't right; we won't live forever from the red of the fire, to the dark in our minds and the love in our hearts Hiding the secrets in a bottle of wine
Reflecting the fall of a star, so crystalline white
The trees of the forest, so watchful and free
Running away, to our freewill
It's the time
to embrace all the feelings that make us be
to remember we're human
the river of life, forevermore
