

Leading to Rome

Sinew

complaint within the machinery and no one understands dazzled we stare at the sky the domino stone started a chain the surge blew you away something has come to an end how would you feel if I'd say that Santa had not survived his body found dead in the district with the red light the party is over my friends we messed it up big time our moaning will resound in empty pipelines

the red truck got stuck on a desert road tumbleweeds pass by someone must save our lives shaman rites in the country club gardens on the roofs some brokers are begging for food
