Painted Desert

Pat Benatar

I hear your heartbeat, but you're never there Like a mirage you haunt me everywhere All day long I burn for you, lonely in the night

I tried to live alone, but I just can't get it rightYa' know that this town's like a painted desert

Dead heat, movin' in the city

I'm lost in a painted desert

In a painted desert without youI've done some thinkin', now that you're not here

I know your reasons and they're still not clear

All I'm sure of is what I got to lose

I tried to be a better loser but it's just no useYa' know that this town's like a painted desert

Dead heat, movin' in the city

I'm lost in a painted desert

In a painted desert without youWalk in the sundown, I search in vain

Waitin' on the wind that whispers out your name

Through concrete canyons echoing a world of other faces

No direction looks like home, where is my oasis? Ya' know that this town's like a painted desert

Dead heat, movin' in the city
I'm lost in a painted desert
In a painted desert without you
In a painted desert without you
Where is my oasis?
