

Behind the Mask (Album Version)

Goldfinger

It's funny to think I trusted you
It's funny to think that I have
Spent my whole damn life supporting you It's funny that I believed in you
It's funny I thought that you'd be
There if I should ever call on you So now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemies Now that I know that you work for them
Now that I know your life is Based around such lies and corporate greed You only believe what you are told
You only defend laws that are old
Because it's law don't make it right So now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemies All my life I've done what I've been asked
So who is right? The one behind the mask So now I'm jaded
Friends turn to enemies It's funny to think I trusted you
It's funny to think that I have
Spent my whole damn life supporting you It's funny that I believed in you
It's funny I thought that you'd be
There if I should ever call on you All my life I've done what I've been asked
So who is right? The one behind the mask All my life I've done what I've been asked?
So who is right? The one behind the mask
