

The War Inside You

One Missed May

Well, you brought me to hell
With all your apathy
Can't even breathe
Trying to pull me out of your chest
You wanted the best
But you was wrong in this contest Yeah, our powers are not in neat
But you're as weak as me
'Cause life is not enough
For love that's like the war for freedom. And now I've risen from my knees
I'm not going to take a bow
Hands away from my soul! Chorus:
I will never forget, will never forget this fight
The mess that we lead
Like a blow to the head
All the memory - out!
All that tied us - off!
To not prevent the triumph,
Then why it hurts so much?
It hurts so much! Flash of your bate
Flew overhead and illuminated
A town that had been ours
Now it's just the ruins
The pits of bombing from the quarrels
Where had been the flowers, I know That all our memorys erased
Not to break off this fight
'Cuz someone has to win
Or this hell will never end And now I've risen from my knees
I'm not going to take a bow. Chorus:
I will never forget, will never forget this fight
The mess that we lead
Like a blow to the head
All the memory - out!
All that tied us - off!
To not prevent the triumph,
Then why it hurts so much?
It hurts so much!

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>