Brave Face

LVLF

Put your brave face on
The one you wore when you stole my heart
Won't you hold my hand?
We'll jump together into anything that could possibly happen'Cause we're still so young
Ask me to dance in this hotel room
Then let's get out of here
And hit the airport with nothing but a carry on between usYou take my over analyze away
It's you and me against the world todayFeels like I'm running with my high heels on
And they're chasing us waiting for it all to go wrong
You're my umbrella against their sticks and stones
As long as we keep smiling they'll never know
Put your brave face on, put your brave face onIt's clear blue skies flying thirty thousand feet above
No one can touch us 'cause we're so in love
Look into my eyes
Meet me there don't look downFeels like I'm running with my high heels on
And they're chasing us waiting for it all to go wrong
You're my umbrella against their sticks and stones
As long as we keep smiling they'll never know
Put your brave face on, so put your brave face on
Put your brave face on, put your brave face onYou take my over analyze away
It's you and me against the world todayIt feels like I'm running with my high heels on
And they're chasing us waiting for it all to go wrong
You're my umbrella against their sticks and stones
As long as we keep smiling they'll never know, they'll never know
Put your brave face on, put your brave face on
Put your brave face on, put your brave face on
