Calling Out (Elephante Remix)

Penguin Prison

There's something I can never say
It's too complicated and you don't need to know.
I start but then I hesitate
There's too many people and I can't be alone.I got a problem, I can't decide
I change my mind about one too many times.
You got a problem, I'll tell you why
There's something else around that I need to find.Now I'm calling, calling out your name
Whenever you want me
I'm calling, calling out your name
But you're not here anymore.I can't be good at everything
So do me a favor and just take what you want
Don't tell me what I never said
You start making sense and then I'll never be done.I never told you, I never lied
You just believed me when I fooled you everytime.
I can't remember, don't tell me now
I never promised you that I'd be around.When I'm calling, calling out your name
Whenever you want me
I'm calling, calling out your name
But you're not here anymore.I got a problem, I can't decide
I change my mind about one too many times.
You got a problem, I'll tell you why
There's something else around that I need to find.Now I'm calling, calling out your name
Whenever you want me (x3)
Now I'm calling, calling out your name.
