The Hunter Brothers - Lost Lyrics

I was way out in a motel town
Gassing up not slowing down
No service and no starbucks round McNally (sounds like he says carbox or carcucks)
She flashed a sweet tea coffee smile at me
An angel trapped in apron strings
So I stayed until that open sign stopped blinking

I said I wanna stay right here, right here, right here
She said, "If your leaving why don't you take me"

I got lost in her eyes
I was losing my mind
Like the sun runs into summer
We were meant to find each other
Only one, way in, And one way out of town
You don't leave the kind of feeling that I found
When I got lost
I got lost

The worlds out there's a passing train
This town don't, But the seasons change
We're just front porch kissing
Like it's going out of style
Let's stay right here, right here, right here
All the crazy places she takes me

And I got lost in her eyes
I was losing my mind
Like the sun runs into summer
We were meant to find each other
Only one, way in, And one way out of town
You don't leave the kind of feeling that I found
When I got lost
I got lost

You don't leave the kind of feeling
You don't leave the kind of feeling

You don't leave the kind of feeling that I found
You don't leave it
You don't leave the kind of feeling
You don't leave the kind of feeling
You don't leave the kind of feeling that I found

And I got lost in her eyes
I was losing my mind
Like the sun runs into summer
We were ment to find each other
Only one, way in, And one way out of town
You don't leave the kind of feeling that I found
When I got lost
I got lost
I got lost
I got looooooooooost
I got lost
I got lost
