

All You Are Love

The Flatlanders

It might not mean much to you baby
But it means the world to me
Just a simple touch of your hand
Tells me what love can be
In moments like this, when you are near me
And I can see so far
Whatever you say, whatever you seem
I love you for all you are
All you see
All you feel
All you are
Love
Somewhere between your heart and mine
Windows open wide
They let the light in with songs in the wind
That send me to your side
Whenever I find you, I'm lost no longer
Wandering so far
Wherever I go whatever I do
I love you for all you are
All you see
All you feel
All you are
All you see
All you feel
All you are
Love
