Is there Anybody Out There

Swim Deep

Got this old feeling that I've met her before
Might not have meant it but I've said it, I'm sure
I don't need love, hell, I need her
Evacuating all my hunger and thirstGave me this power that I don't deserve
A train could hit me and I wouldn't be hurt
First time I saw her, I fell off the earth
Nearly died but didn't blame herIs there anybody out there? So beautifully honest, atomic
Is there anybody out there? I'm breathing 'cause you are
Is there anybody out there? So soothing, I want it
Is there anybody out there quite...Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?I'm going to praise you like a god
And treat you like my old friend
Taller than me, why shouldn't she be?
Exaggerating all the freedom in meGave me a power and I'm terrified
9 more lives and none like her I will find
Fugitive of hate when my baby is near She's got a talent that won't disappearIs there anybody out there? So beautifully honest, atomic
Is there anybody out there? I'm breathing 'cause you are
Is there anybody out there? So soothing, I want it
Is there anybody out there quite...Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?
Is there anybody out there quite like you?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/