Hey if you really wanna fight with me
Then drop the act and take accountability.
And own your wrongs and keep them near
Donâ€™t waive your love for foolish fears.

Attention threatened me
Now I give an apology
When stressing is no way to be
With no measure on how hard I could pull

Oh why do we do all the things we do
That serve only to harm? I left her feeling used
The other person we had I lost in the crash.
I take him out to choose.

Hey if you really wanna fight with me
Then drop the act and take accountability.
And own your wrongs and keep them near
Donâ€™t waive your love for foolish fears.

Someone whoâ€™s certain and certain youâ€™re falling

Itâ€™s in the beating of another breed
Itâ€™s in the pulse of the apology
If you cut the tension in the monologue
Embed "no hope, give up" it means "let it be"

If you want to be asleep just hold my hand.
Believe.

But if you really wanna fight with me
Then drop the act and take accountability.
And own your wrongs and keep them near
Donâ€™t waive your love for foolish fears.

You donâ€™t know what youâ€™re really scared of I can tell
The circles that youâ€™re running in your mind
All well remove me from your sights and scare your heart
from feeling mine

For where youâ€™re at!
You need to be yourself

I wore off

A good face
A good place
I was safe

Hey if you really wanna fight with me
Then drop the act and take accountability.
And own your wrongs and keep them near
Donâ€™t waive your love for foolish fears.

You donâ€™t know what youâ€™re really scared of I can tell
The circles that youâ€™re running in your mind
All well remove me from your sights and scare your heart
from feeling mine

Someone whoâ€™s certain and certain youâ€™re falling
Someone whoâ€™s certain and certain youâ€™re falling
