Lay Low

Lou Doillon

Let's just pretend for a little while
That all there is here and now
And you and I
Hey, ohLet's turn our backs
To all the reasons why we shouldn't
Let us lay low, in each other's stare
Hey, ohIn the morning lights
While the world gets busy
We lay low, we lay low
Hey, ohAnd I know it wasn't wise
To look straight back into your eyes
And I don't need you to tell me so
Hey, ohAnd I don't want to think, no
I don't want to know
You tell me when it's my time to go
Hey, ohIn the morning lights
While the world gets busy
We lay low, we lay lowIn the morning lights
While the world gets busy
We lay low, we lay low
Hey, ohLet's just pretend for a little while
That all there is here and now
And you and I
Hey, ohLet's turn our backs
To all the reasons why we shouldn't
Let us lay low, in each other's stare
Hey, ohIn the morning lights
While the world gets busy
We lay low, we lay lowIn the morning lights
While the world gets busy
We lay low, we lay low
Hey, oh
Hey, oh
Hey, oh
Hey, oh
