

Bright Side

Smile Empty Soul

Break everything you love
After all there's no hope or God above
Looking at the bright side
At the bright side Kill everything inside
It's better to be dead
Than always have to hide
Looking at the bright side
At the bright side Give me just one more chance to think about it
There's more to life than said
And there's more to me than met
And I need to pick myself up
Off the ground before I sink into it Why do I feel like this?
Whenever I get up I'm right back in the shit
Looking at the bright side
At the bright side As long as I get my fix
I watch the pain dissolve
There's nothing left but bliss
Looking at the bright side
At the bright side Give me just one more chance to think about it
There's more to life than said
And there's more to me than met
And I need to pick myself up
Off the ground before I sink into it I need to rebuild my mind so I'm strong again
I need to rebuild my life so I'm full within 'Cause there's more to life than said
And there's more to me than met
And I need to pick myself up
Off the ground before I sink into it
